NEW MANAGEMENT FOR OCEAN SHORE

A change in the management of the Ocean Shore Railway was effected last week, when S. W. Reynolds, the president, and L. H.
Landis, the general manager, re-sired, to be succeeded by Alfred Williams, who will serve as both president and general manager.

Reynolds and Landis had charge of the road through the trying period of reorganization, and were successful in building up its earnings and curtailing its operating expenses until it was able to show a surplus.

Williams has been connected with railroad interests in the north. He was associated with the Copper River railroad in Alaska and with properties in British Columbia.

From the recent assessment $383,000 has been realized, and this will be devoted to betterments.

Registration for the Presidential Primaries closes to-day.
Those who were on the old register need not reregister for the primaries.

Gift Pictures at Grammar School.

Three handsome gift pictures will shortly be hung in the front corridor of the grammar school. The Woman's Relief Corps will present a large photographic picture of St.
Gaudens' statue of Lincoln. Mrs.
Gao. H. Rice will donate a picture of the magnificent gothic Cathedral of Amiens in memory of her husband, the late George H. Rice, who was a trustee when the present school building was erected, and who always took a deep interest in school affairs. The Fraternal Aid will give a landscape.
These pictures will be appropriately engraved.

Organized Against Japs.

Laundrymen from this city, San Francisco, San Mateo, Palo Alto and San Jose met at a hotel in San Jose Wednesday night informally and made plans for the permanent organization of an anti-Japanese labor association. The motto "Keep the white man's standard in the white man's country" was adopted as the slogan of the association, and plans were discussed for making the organization an effective weapon against Japanese competition.

Water Front Owners Meet

A meeting of the owners of property fronting on the creek was held at the city hall Tuesday evening and plans were discussed for improving the creek. Later meetings will be had and it is hoped to agree on a plan of bulkheading that will make the stream more sightly than at present and reclaim the overflow land.

Gun Men Forfeit Bail.

The seven Chinese gun men who were arrested last week on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and were released on cash bail of $25 each, failed to report for their hearing in the justice court yesterday. Their bail amounting to $175 was declared forfeited.

CHORAL SOCIETY INVITES PUBLIC SATURDAY NIGHT.

The Redwood City Choral Society has announced an entertainment and dance to be given at the Alhambra on Saturday night, April 13th, at 8 o'clock. This means has been taken to secure funds to pay the society's outstanding debts incurred in the production of "A Nautical Knot" last January.

The program will of course be largely musical, but will be of a different class than any before put on by the choral. The change has proved a pleasant one to the members taking part and will be equally as pleasant to the public. In addition to a number of popular hits, which by the way are new on the coast, there will be a male quartet, solos, etc. Then a little surprise has been prepared for the people, in fact two or three of them, but mum's the word, if you were told the surprise would be gone. Come and see. Seats on sale at Ryan's drug store, fifty cents.

Sempervirens family, which for 5000

The request for the trees: four feet high, was made by Governor Gilchrist of Florida, and granted Monday by Governor Johnson, who authorized State Forester G. M.
Homans to superintend their removal from the forest. They will be planted in the capital grounds at

TAFT MAKES GOOD LABOR PLEDGES

Administration's Record Squares With Its Promises.

MANY NEW LAWS ENACTED.

Postal Savings Banks, Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability Laws Passed—Eight Hour Law Upheld—Labor Recognized on Commissions.

From the day three years ago when it placed its interests in the keeping of William Howard Taft to this hour labor has critically scanned his every act, and with discriminating mind it is judging him as one who, without clamor or demonstration, has kept the faith.

On Sept. 9, 1908, Theodore Roosevelt, then president of the United States, wrote a letter to Conrad Kohrs on the issues of the campaign and, addressing himself to the laboring men, said:

"If there is one body of men more than another whose support I feel I have a right to challenge on behalf of Secretary Taft it is the body of wage-workers of the country. A stancher friend, a fairer and truer representative they cannot find within the borders of the United States. He will do everything in his power for them except to do that which is wrong. He will do wrong for no man and therefore can be trusted by all men."

Mr. Taft Labor's Friend.

The workmen of the country judged Mr. Taft in 1908 by a record of twenty-seven years as a statesman, administrator of national affairs and presidential adviser, and they helped to give him the magnificent majority which put him in the White House. During the three years he has been president his excellent record has been maintained so splendidly that the laboring men have been confirmed in the belief that they never had a better friend in the White House.

The establishment of the postal savings banks, which was recommended by President Taft, was one of the things that organized labor favored. The $10,000,000 now on deposit in these depositories represents the savings of the wage earners.

Taft's Personal Interest.

President Taft approved a law on May 30, 1908, to compensate workmen for injuries received while in the employ of the United States. After the passage of this act a number of workmen in the employ of the federal government were killed, and their families, not being familiar with the provisions of the law, failed to file affidavits within the specified time. The secretary of commerce and labor had no power to set aside the provision of the law and was therefore obliged to disapprove the claims.

The matter was taken up by the president, and he satisfied himself that justice was not being done to the families of the men who had been killed. He sent a special message to congress recommending that a general act be passed allowing all such claimants compensation if their claims were otherwise meritorious. This was an instance that proved the president to be broadminded and anxious to aid the workmen in any way that he could.

An employers' liability act approved

June 11, 1908, was on January 8, 1908, held to be unconstitutional. Another of this sort was passed on April 22, 1908, which as yet has not been tested in the courts. Through the efforts of the president a commission was appointed to make an investigation of the subject of "employers' liability and workmen's compensation."

Labor Men Appointed.

The report of the commission, the evidence taken before it and the draft of the bill prepared as a result of the findings of said commission have been transmitted to congress, accompanied by a special message by President Taft, in which he recommends the passage of the proposed measure. In their deliberations the members of the commission had the benefit of frequent consultations with the president. It is believed the act will stand the test of constitutionality.

In order that the commission might have the benefit of the experience of a practical man President Taft appointed as one of its members Daniel L. Cense, the editor of the Railroad Trainmen's Journal, the official organ of the railroad trainmen. Mr. Cense has devoted the best years of his useful life to the cause of labor. The president also appointed experienced labor men as inspectors under the locomotive boiler inspection law. They were John F. Ensign of Colorado and Frank McManamy of Oregon for chief inspector and assistant chief inspector respectively.

The defects in the present eight hour law have not escaped the attention of President Taft. He has recommended to congress amendments which will make it really effective by "providing that public works shall be construed to include not only buildings and works upon public grounds, but also ships' armor and large guns when manufactured in private yards or factories."
